Detailed Analysis

1. Project rationale and the intended beneficiaries

Partial

The document mentions the project is technically feasible and financially viable with strong demand for products, local availability of raw materials, and existing dealer network. It also mentions beneficiaries such as rural milk producers who get assured income and employment, and the project aims to bring socio-economic stability in rural Maharashtra. However, a detailed rationale and a comprehensive description of intended beneficiaries are not fully elaborated.

2. Socio-economic benefits of the project

Partial

The document discusses socio-economic benefits such as assured income and employment to rural milk producers, socio-economic stability and well-being in rural areas, and value addition through new products improving economic benefits to the company and producers. However, the benefits are mentioned in parts and not fully detailed comprehensively.

3. Alignment with scheme guidelines and focus areas

Partial

The document references eligibility for subsidies and incentives under schemes like Ministry of Food Processing Industries Integrated Cold Chain Scheme, Animal Husbandry Infrastructure Fund interest subvention, and Package Scheme of Incentives-2019 from the Maharashtra government. It also mentions compliance with scheme conditions such as loan eligibility and interest subvention rules. However, a full alignment with all scheme guidelines and focus areas is not completely detailed.
